SUGAR BREAKS TO BELOW 113.

Talk of Irade War Continues-The General Market Firm-Air Brake Declines on Court Decision Against Company.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.-The market pened dull and irregular and throughout he morning prices ruled uncertain, al though the tone was inclined to firmness The anthracite coalers were leading features of strength. Jersey Central advanced 2 per cent. Heavy buying of Reading was the feature of the morning, both commer and preferred were in demand at improvements of substantial Sugar Still Declining.

Sugar Refining was a conspicuous feature, opening 1% lower on gessip of a a point and then declined sharply to 112 and a fraction.

Amalgamated Copper was dull. After declining a point on renewed pressure it became steady at a fraction below Saturday's elece. Anaconda was also weak in the first hour, but it rallied. Among the specialties there was a very sharp decline in New York Air Brake on the decision adverse to the company in the United States Courts, announced on Saturday.

The United States Steel issues were actively dealt in and were very strong at the opening, afterward reacting on profit-realizing sales. Westinghouse Electric advanced 7 per cent, General Electric gained 2 per cent, and there were sharp advances in Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chi-cago and St. Louis.

Lendon Prices Lower.

London furnished a lower range of prices for American stocks, but the general market there was reported strong on the improving prospects for peace in South Africa. The dealings here for foreign account were on an unimportant scale. The arbitrage houses were sellers of less than 5,000 shares for foreign ac-

Sugar was the conspicuous figure of the market this morning with a continuous break to between 112 and 113 before 1 o'clock and a very good chance apparently to go lower before the end of the day.

The "trade" is said to be very bearish on the situation and to be selling stocks The "trade" is said to announce that there is now little if any profit in refining owing to the recent sharp cuts in the price of the refined article. This is a different condition of things from what has been supposed to exist by people fairly well acquainted with the sugar market, and some doubts as to its being the truth are expressed. The theory that the Sugar Trust really desires to have the price of the stock low is heard in many quarters.

The break in Sugar stock did not have much, if any, effect on the general mar-ket. This stock has lost much of its prestige as a leader in the speculative market during the past year or two.

Anthracite Coalers Prosperous. The Anthracite Coalers were as strong as Sugar was weak. The Readings and the Eries all advanced well on what seemed to be excellent inside buying. The figures of the coal production for the ngures of the coal preduction for the year 1901 will soon be out, and it is said that they will show an increase of something like 6,000,000 tons over last year. This fact with the higher prices obtained for coal will make the receipts of the anthracite railways for the year far beyond the record of any previous year. It is hinted that still another advance in price may be looked for on January 1.

General Market Outlobk.

General Market Outlook.

Money rates were somewhat stiffer this morning but there was no fear of tigh money expressed by the financial experts It is believed that speculation will be re stricted during holiday week and that there will be little demand for funds to buoy up the market. Conservative stock brokers express the belief that the stock market is likely to

It is said that there is already some buying of good railway securities, of the lower level of prices, on margins, by people intending to purchase them outright when they receive their January dividends

NO DANGER OF A TARIFF WAR.

GERMANY MUST BUY IN AMERICA

Products Bought in This Country Cannot Be Secured Elsewhere in Case of an Embarge.

The German Tariff vs. Commercia Treaties, is the caption used by the State Department over a recent report from Ernest L. Harris, United States Consular Agent at Eibenstock. Mr. Harris says:

New German Tariff Passed. "The new German tariff has been passed by the Bundesrath without any material change, and it will be laid before the Reichstag immediately on the convening of that body in December. It would seem, therefore, that the bill as outlined stands a very good chance of becoming law with-

"The subject which interests the Gertreaties with other nations.

Difficult to Dislodge.

Germany will ever begin a tariff war should be given to any superior at any with the United States. "Georg Gothein, member of the Reichstag and Prussian Diet, in an essay recently published, says: prohibitive duties, advocate a tariff war with the United States. They reason that inasmuch as Germany buys twice as much of the United States as we export to that country, we could force the United States into making us concessions.

Other Markets Unavailable. 000,000 worth of products from the United States. In case of a tariff war 67 per cent of all these products would still have substitute for them. The cotton of India cannot take the place of that of Georgia, nor Russian petroleum that of Pennsylnor Russian petroleum that of Pennsylvania or Ohio. America is the only country which can supply us with anything like the necessary quantities of indian corn, copper, phosphate, etc., and while Kentucky and Virginia tobacco is not of the best quality, still as smoking tobacco it has come very much into favor. Even if we succeeded in importing all sur wheat, barley, cats, and lumber from Russia or Argentina, they are such marketable products in themselves that America would have no difficulty in selling them to other countries.

30% ing them to other countries.
"The simple figures of the exports and imports of Germany with the United States do not give a true picture of the actual balance of trade. It would certain tainly be very gratifying if America could be induced to lower her tariff; but it is very doubtful if a tariff war is the best means of achieving this end. As long as a modus vivendi may be reached, it is always better not to go to extremes.

Cause for Mutual Dissatisfaction.

"In spite of the fact that the great majority of our complaints against the American tariff are justified, it must be borne in mind that the Americans have ment which they have received at our hands. In every tariff war which lasts for any length of time the benefits, if there are any, fall into the hands of a third party. In this case, nothing could be more advantageous to the commerce of Great Britain, and entirely at the ex-
